1. Introduction

The African Karate Championships – Algiers 2026 represented one of the most important continental karate events of the year and brought together athletes, coaches, referees, judges, officials and representatives of National Federations from across Africa.

Organised in Algiers by the Algerian Karate Federation, under the auspices of the Union of African Karate Federations (UFAK) and with the support and cooperation of the World Karate Federation (WKF), the championships provided a high-level platform for sporting competition while also serving as an important continental development programme.

The Algiers event combined several major components:

- African continental championships
- Cadet, Junior, U21 and Senior competitions
- Individual and team Kata and Kumite
- Para Karate
- African referee and judge education
- Referee examinations
- Coach education and examinations
- UFAK Executive Committee meeting
- UFAK General Assembly of Information
- Governance discussions
- Financial review
- Regional development review
- Digital communication development

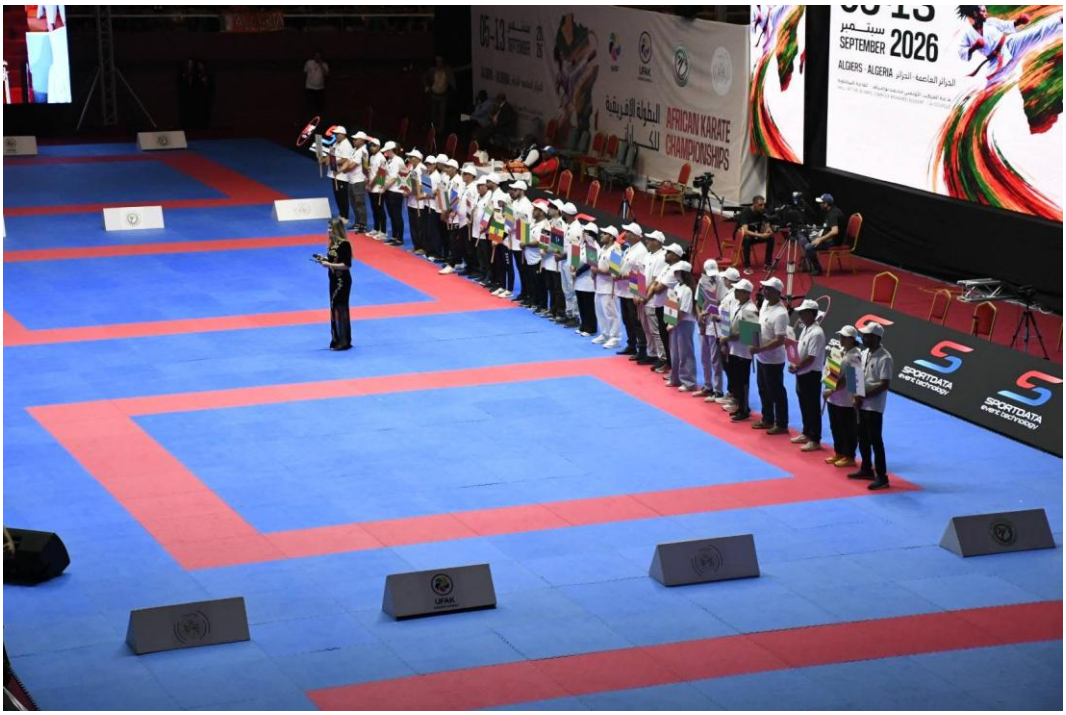

- Preparation of future UFAK activities

The event therefore went beyond the sporting competition itself. Algiers 2026 provided an opportunity to bring together the sporting, technical, institutional and strategic dimensions of African karate.

It demonstrated the continued commitment of UFAK and its National Federations to developing karate across the continent and strengthening Africa's position within the international karate community.

2. Organisation of the Championships

The African Karate Championships were held in Algiers, Algeria, with the competition programme taking place at the La Coupole Olympic Complex.

The championships brought together athletes from different African National Federations and included the principal age categories of the UFAK competition pathway:

- Cadet
- Junior
- U21
- Senior

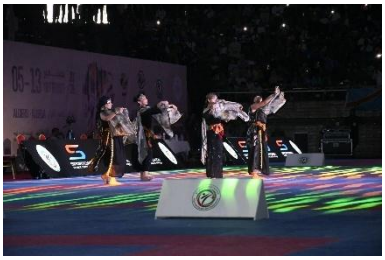

The programme included:

- Individual Kata
- Individual Kumite
- Team Kata
- Team Kumite
- Para Karate

The competition was organised using four tatami, allowing the different categories to be conducted efficiently within the scheduled programme.

The organisation also incorporated accreditation, weigh-in procedures, draws, technical meetings, competition sessions, medal ceremonies and the necessary technical and administrative arrangements required for a continental championship.

The event demonstrated the ability of the host federation and organising structures to manage a major continental competition involving a large number of athletes and officials.

3. A Championship Combining Sport and Development

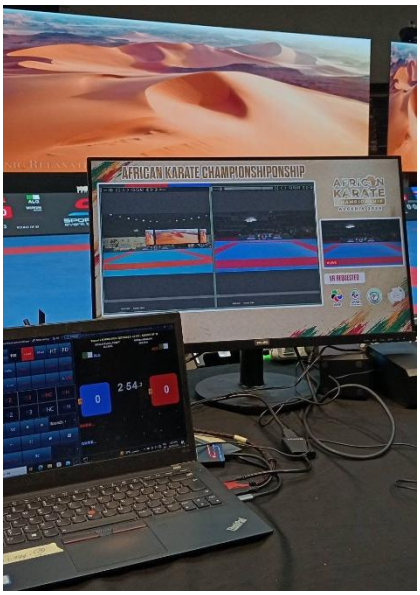

A major strength of Algiers 2026 was the combination of competition with technical and institutional activities. The championship served simultaneously as:

A competition platform

Providing African athletes with high-level continental competition.

A technical development platform

Providing opportunities for referees, judges and coaches to improve their qualifications and knowledge.

An institutional platform

Bringing together UFAK leaders, National Federations and WKF representatives.

A governance platform

Discussing the institutional development and administration of African National Federations.

A communication platform

Presenting the new UFAK website and strengthening digital communication.

This integrated approach reflects UFAK's objective of developing African karate in a structured and sustainable manner.

4. UFAK Executive Committee Meeting

The Executive Committee of the Union of African Karate Federations (UFAK) held its meeting on 9 September 2026 at the Sheraton Hotel in Algiers.

The meeting brought together UFAK officials to review the Union's activities and discuss the principal issues concerning the development and future of African karate.

Following welcoming remarks from the President of the Algerian Karate Federation and Souleymane Gaye, President of UFAK, an important part of the meeting was devoted to an address by Antonio Espinós, President of the World Karate Federation (WKF).

4.4 Observations of the Executive Committee

The Executive Committee expressed its appreciation to the three chairmen for the quality and clarity of their presentations.

The use of quantitative and qualitative data in the Technical and Refereeing Committee reports was identified as a significant methodological improvement, allowing UFAK to assess its development programmes objectively rather than by impression alone.

The Executive Committee encouraged the committees to continue this approach and to build on it in the preparation of the 2027 programme of activities.

The Assembly therefore served as an important platform for:

Information – Consultation – Dialogue – Coordination – Cooperation between UFAK, its National Federations and international karate authorities.

7. African Referee and Judge Seminar

The Algiers championships were accompanied by a major programme for the development of African referees and judges. The UFAK Referee Commission organised a continental seminar covering Kata and Kumite.

The programme attracted 433 participants, including:

Seminar → Examination → Qualification → Practical Experience → Continuous Development

The programme in Algiers contributed to strengthening the pool of qualified African referees and judges and to improving consistency in the application of WKF competition rules.

9. African Coaching Course and Examinations

The Algiers programme also included UFAK Coach Courses and Examinations in Kata and Kumite.

The programme provided coaches with an opportunity to improve their technical knowledge and demonstrate their understanding of the requirements of the WKF competition system. It included:

- Kata coaching education
- Kumite coaching education

The Algiers session produced the following accreditation and homologation results:

A total of 50 coaches were accredited (24 in Kata and 33 in Kumite, reflecting coaches accredited in more than one discipline), while 8 coaches achieved homologation (1 in Kata and 7 in Kumite), confirming a further step up in qualification level for this smaller group of candidates.

Coach development represents a fundamental part of UFAK's long-term strategy.

The quality of athlete development depends heavily on the knowledge, experience and qualifications of coaches working within National Federations.
